2. Background and Current IT Infrastructure

2.1 Current IT Infrastructure

The OICL IT Architecture is designed around a central data centre with all OICL offices connecting to this data centre over a VPN. The data centers and the OICL Offices have dual redundant connectivity links over VPN.

2.2 High Level Overview of the IT Landscape

OICL IT Infrastructure is enabled by a 24x7 data centre. Within the data centre various servers and associated equipment are hosted that provide the processing power and storage for running/managing application programs.

The servers in turn are used to host applications including INLIAS, SAP, HRMS, Portal, E-mail, Proxy, etc. that provide business services to the users.

On top of the application layer there is a network layer that makes these applications accessible from remote offices (VPN) and finally the end user's computer.

The users accessing these applications from their desktops form the top of this logical view of the OICL IT landscape. All the other elements are ultimately to serve the users in performing their business functions.

2.3 INLIAS Architecture

BACK-END: INLIAS is an intranet based application. The infrastructure is hosted at OICL's centralized Data Center. The oracle application server suite is serving client interface and reporting requirements. The oracle 11g database is hosted on a high-end SUN SPARC server. The OS platform for all the database, application and reporting servers is Solaris 10.

This architecture is similar in Data Center and Disaster Recovery Sites. Users have to use separate URLs for accessing individual sites.

FRONT-END: There is no INLIAS specific client-side software. Users open the application using a generic browser (IE 9 and above) with java component (Jinitiator 1.3.1.22) installed. User requests are received by a load balancer and routed to one of the available application servers. Thereafter a session will be established between client and the server. Users cannot hit individual application servers and all offices use the same URL for accessing the application.

2.4 Bandwidth Details

1000+ OICL Offices are connected to data centre through MPLS VPN Dual Active-Active Link. Following table specifies the bandwidth available at various OICL offices:

Office	Primary Link Bandwidth	Secondary Link Bandwidth	Total Bandwidth
HO	4 mbps	4 mbps	8 mbps
RO	192 Kbps	192 Kbps	384 Kbps
	256 Kbps	256 Kbps	512 Kbps
	320 Kbps	320 Kbps	620 Kbps
	384 Kbps	384 Kbps	768 Kbps
	512 Kbps	512 Kbps	1024 Kbps
DO	256 Kbps	256 Kbps	512 Kbps
BO	128 Kbps	128 Kbps	256 Kbps
SVC	192 Kbps	192 Kbps	384 Kbps
TP Hub	128 Kbps	128 Kbps	256 Kbps
EC / MO	64 Kbps	Nil	64 Kbps

In addition to the above, OICL has 700+ MO's and EC's which are connected to VPN through secure Roam Connect over internet.

3. Scope of Work

The scope of work for this project would include supply, Implementation and Integration of Biometric Authentication Solution. The tenure of the contract would be 6 years from the date of signing the contract. OICL can further extend this at its discretion at the mutually agreed terms and conditions. 11.8 Annexure 8 : Standard Operation Procedure and Solution Approach

11.8.1 Standard Operation Procedure

Objective:

A solution needs to be created that would enable biometric authentication for INLIAS application at OICL.

First time Registration Process:

1. This registration can be done through finger print Biometric Devices that would be available in all the branches. It would not matter if there is a difference in the office location as all the scanned images will be stored in a central server.
2. There would be guidelines in place that would help images to be properly captured. The guidelines framework can be as follows:

General User	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Hand is not soiled and is free from color (e.g. including organic colors), sweat or any other substance that would disrupt the process of image capture.• A combination of six fingers from both the hands (e.g. index finger of left and right hand) will be used.
Disable User	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• An exemption list will be fed into the system that will allow finger print capture from fingers of one hand.

3. Graphical User Interface (GUI) will be used to capture information of Employee Code.

11.8.2 Solution Approach and Features

Bidder would ensure the biometric solution proposed should have the following approach for Biometric data (Finger Print) authentication in INLIAS:

DESIGN COMPONENTS:

- 1. INLIAS application: It will be responsible for taking the user-id & password from the user as input and post user verification in INLIAS, the system will invoke the biometric application.
- 2. Biometric Web-Application: It will be responsible for verification of the user biometric (Finger-Print) data from the biometric server for the user id passed. After successful authentication, a token need to be generated and passed to INLIAS application. The token need to be random, unpredictable and should be encrypted so that it cannot be compromised.
- 3. Biometric Verification service: It will be used for verifying the generated token against the user-id received from the INLIS application for verification.

INLIAS Pre Login Page

- Takes the INLIAS user id & password as input
- Responsible for invoking the Biometric Application in dialogue box and passing the user id to Biometric Application

Biometric Web Application

- Biometric vendor provided web application
- Should receive the user id from INLIAS login
- Responsible for taking input fingerprint & perform authentication against passed user-id
- If Success, the response & token is passed to Pre Login Page through dialogue box

INLIAS Pre Login Page

- Token from biometric application & user id is passed to the verification service of biometric application for authentication

Biometric Token Verification Service

- Token & user id will be verified & response will be sent back to INLIAS pre login page
- After verification process is complete, INLIAS Menu will be displayed
